

SPECIAL*REPORT*USPTO FEE INCREASES*September 6, 2012

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) issued final rules to adjust certain patent fees effective Friday, October 5, 2012 to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index (CPI).<sup>1</sup> In general, the affected patent fees will increase by about 1.7% (instead of 2.9% as originally estimated by the USPTO earlier this year, and reported in our May 14, 2012 Special Report).

A chart is attached showing the current fees as well as the new fees that will be in place on October 5. In general, patent filing fees will increase by $10-$20, issue fees by $20-$30, and maintenance fees by $20 (1st) to $80 (3rd).

These inflation-based increases are unrelated to the proposed fee increases discussed in our February 9, 2012 Special Report, which reported that the PTO was initiating the process to exercise its fee setting authority under the America Invents Act (AIA). Proposed rules implementing the AIA-based fee changes were published today in the Federal Register. We are reviewing the proposed rules, and will issue an additional Special Report next week that focuses on these proposed rules. The USPTO anticipates that the AIA-based fee changes will go into effect in early 2013.

We recommend that your short-term planning be based at least on the enclosed revised fee schedule, which includes the 1.7% increase on October 5. It would also be prudent to plan for substantial changes in patent fees anticipated to go into effect in early 2013. We will continue to monitor the situation closely, and will provide updates accordingly.
